ReSound

rediscover hearing

An instantly forgettable hearing instrument

Because you don't want to be reminded that you're wearing a hearing instrument, we've created one you'll quickly forget you have on.

dot² by ReSound[®] is small. 1.38 grammes-small to be precise. That's about the same as a couple of paper clips. So not only will you hardly feel the instrument on your ear, no one around you will spot it either. In fact, the only thing you'll notice about it is the dramatic improvement it makes to your hearing.

The surround sound experience

dot² by ReSound[®] may be small but it's packed with a host of features that deliver an extraordinarily natural listening experience, helping you reengage with family and friends, and reconnect with the world around you.

dot² by ReSound[®] is powered by our unique surround sound processor. As well as delivering a rich, near-natural listening experience, this cutting-edge technology provides a number of additional advantages that put you back in the centre of your life.

The effect is an unrivalled feeling of 'being there'. You'll benefit from an increased sense of awareness, and rediscover sounds the way they were meant to be heard. We call it the surround sound experience.

The most attractive hearing instrument you'll never see dot² by ReSound[®] is the ultimate combination of form and function, pairing natural sound quality with near-invisible design. Here are some of its key advantages:

- Extremely small and lightweight
- Straightforward to use
- Option of fully automatic or manual operation
- Ergonomic, comfortable design
- Extraordinarily rich sound
- No annoying whistling
- Wide range of colours

Choose the dot² by ReSound[®] that suits you dot² by ReSound[®] is available in a broad array of colours to suit any taste.

Ask your hearing care professional to show you the full range.
